Exploring Ecuador and the Galapagos Islands with Diane Heer
Tuesday, February 21, 7pm
Enjoy a slideshow and presentation on Diane's recent trip (September 2005) to the Central Highlands of Ecuador and the Galapagos Islands. Ecuador is one of the smallest countries in South America and has a variety of climates, fauna, and volcano's over 20,000 feet. The Galapagos Islands are located 600 miles west of Ecuador in the Pacific Ocean. The islands are home to the Giant Tortoises, Galapagos penguins, marine iguanas, sea lions, blue and red footed boobies, flightless cormorants, and many other species of birds and animals found only in the Galapagos. Come and enjoy the uniqueness of these beautiful islands.

Sustainable Landscaping
Tuesday, February 28, 7-8:30pm
The ideal landscape sustains people by creating aesthetic, emotive, and useful living environments. The ideal landscape also sustains itself with little maintenance by being in tune with natural systems. These ideals are attainable! Lauren Chase-Rowell will explore and suggest methods of landscape design, construction, and maintenance that lead toward sustainable landscapes, promote biological diversity, and follow ecological principles. Presenter: Lauren Chase-Rowell*, landscape designer and instructor; experience and background:, 14 years with the UNH Thompson School of Applied Sciences Horticulture Program, 4 years with the University of New Hampshire Office of Sustainability Programs, and now principle owner of Outdoor Rooms: Sustainable and Ecological Landscape Design Services.*

The Way Men Act

by Elinor Lipman

Wednesday, February 15, 7pm

Books are available at the circulation desk.

Set in Harrow, Massachusetts, where "quality of life" is measured in cappuccino machines, poetry readings and bike paths, The Way Men Act is about friendship, snobbery, and getting lucky in love after giving up hope.
